Hidden Treasure

The kingdom of heaven is like treasure hidden in a field, which someone found and hid; then in his joy he goes and sells all that he has and buys that field. Again, the kingdom of heaven is like a merchant in search of fine pearls; on finding one pearl of great value, he went and sold all that he had and bought it.

Matthew 13:44 – 46 NRSV

“The church is different from all other humanitarian organizations. The church is distinctive. The church exists to bring love, hope and generosity to whatever suffering and need exist, always and anywhere. The church is alone in reflecting the steadfastness of God…The church offers people something that cannot be found anywhere else. Even the smallest struggling church has the potential to be a source of meaning in people’s lives, because it is a place where everything that happens is intended to reinforce people’s best hopes for themselves and the world. It is a place devoted to that intent, for anyone and everyone, all the time. Where else in the world is that true?”

The church in all its settings – local, association, conference and national – manifests, at its best, God’s reign of peace, mercy and justice on earth. When your congregation gives through the wider church, it is investing in God’s reign, in the field with hidden treasure, in the pearl of great value.

We provide you this “Guide to Giving” to assist your congregation in making wise investments of its outreach dollars in the distinctive mission of the church to make God’s love and justice real to everyone.
The 215th (2014) Annual Meeting of the Massachusetts Conference overwhelmingly approved the creation of United Church Mission (UCM) as a new way to fund our common mission through our Conference and the National setting of the UCC for those churches that opt in to UCM. In time, the plan is for United Church Mission to replace Fellowship Dues and Our Church’s Wider Mission (OCWM) Basic Support. All churches are encouraged to transition to United Church Mission at the start of their next fiscal year or the subsequent year if more time is needed to accomplish the change. Churches are asked to give, in UCM contributions, at least the equivalent of the combined amount of Fellowship Dues and OCWM Basic Support that they contributed in the previous year. Whether through United Church Mission or Dues/OCWM Basic Support, with 67% of funds retained to support Conference ministries and 33% shared with the National setting, your giving is making a difference*:

Now well over half our pastors who serve churches – and nearly 100% of our newly ordained clergy – are participating in clergy groups we call Communities of Practice. By sharing their wisdom, experience, struggles and plans, they form a circle of accountability that enhances their effectiveness and deepens their faithfulness. The benefits of these discussions are then lived out in hundreds of our congregations. Indeed, the Pastoral Excellence Program has changed the culture of ministry in the Massachusetts Conference. Having created such a successful program, we want to make certain that it will continue to anchor ministry in Massachusetts for generations to come. By contributing to the Sustaining Pastoral Excellence Endowment Campaign, your congregation can help to ensure that the UCC in Massachusetts will have the best possible pastoral leadership.

With your donations, the United Church of Christ can respond quickly to disaster emergencies, working with local churches, conferences, and global partners to assess emergency needs and then stay on, committed to long-term support and planning. Remember that 100% of your donation to the UCC disaster ministry goes directly to assist victims. Following a disaster – whether in Massachusetts where tornadoes destroyed homes in 2011, in the U.S. where tornadoes in Oklahoma and damage from Hurricane Sandy impacted thousands, or across the globe, where Typhoon Haiyan, civil war in Syria and earthquakes in Haiti and Chile destroyed homes and lives – the UCC can promptly contribute food packages, emergency shelters and other provisions, as well as providing One Great Hour of Sharing solidarity grants to churches in need and psychosocial support and health care for those affected. Through National Disaster Ministries, each UCC conference has local disaster resource coordinators in place. These coordinators develop preparedness measures, support and resource local pastors and churches in the communities impacted by the disaster, participate in long-term recovery efforts, and serve as witnesses of hope. Jim Tilbe and Fred Meade are the Disaster Resource Coordinators for the MACUCC. Visit the Conference disaster response page, macucc.org/disasterresponse, for more information.

Congregational growth, clergy and lay leadership development, justice-based ministries, new and vital partnerships with local churches, the Conference and local communities – these all add up to Hispanic Ministries in the Massachusetts Conference. Hispanic Ministries have been a part of the Massachusetts Conference for more than 25 years, and today a renewed vision for inclusive, participatory and relational models of ministry between our churches is producing a vibrant cross fertilization in worship and witness. And Hispanic UCC churches have opened or are re-emerging: there are current communities of faith in Jamaica Plain, Lowell and Worcester, and ministries are continuing to evolve in Everett, Southbridge and Salem. These represent wonderful opportunities for border-crossing with neighbors from South and Central America and the Caribbean who are a part of the dynamic demographic changes being witnessed throughout our country and in our state. In Massachusetts, the Hispanic population has grown by more than 51.6% in the last seven years. Hundreds of lives are being touched by the Massachusetts Conference Hispanic Ministries. Will your church consider making a commitment to the vitality and future of Hispanic Ministries in the Massachusetts Conference?

SPECIAL FUNDS OF THE MACUCC

Congregations engaged in capital campaigns or individuals interested in planned giving, may wish to consider a gift to one of the following conference funds.

SUSTAINING PASTORAL EXCELLENCE ENDOWMENT FUND

This endowment fund provides income for ongoing support of the Pastoral Excellence Program of the Massachusetts Conference. Income from the fund may be used to support Conference programming designed to promote pastoral excellence by pastors with standing in the Massachusetts Conference. Currently this programming includes continuing education events, New Clergy Groups and Clergy Communities of Practice.

JUSTICE AND WITNESS FUND

This fund supports the Justice and Witness ministries of both the Conference and the congregations of the Massachusetts Conference. Funds may be used for Barnes grants to congregations, support of Justice and Witness ministry teams, programming and resources.

21ST CENTURY CONGREGATIONS FUND

This fund assists churches to successfully meet the challenges of ministry in the context of contemporary society. Funds may be used for programming, coaching, consulting, training and grants to support local church transformation, missional effectiveness, lay leadership development and long-term vitality.

SEEDS OF FAITH FUND

This fund promotes faith development within the Massachusetts Conference. Funds may be used to provide programming, resources and grants to local congregations to support faith, generosity and discipleship formation of children, youth and adults. Funds may also be used to support programming and/or resources by the Conference for faith development of individuals (on-line Bible studies or spiritual retreats, for example).
Giving Generously

Because of its primacy in making God’s love and justice real for everyone, individuals should make their local church their priority in charitable giving. Likewise, the local church should make the wider church its priority in its mission giving. Churches are asked to give at least 10% of total income to mission giving. Depending on available income, some churches will feel called to give even more. In fact, many churches give much more than 10% of their income to mission. Churches giving less than 10% are asked to prayerfully consider increasing their giving at an annual rate of 1/4 to 1/2% of total income.*

Giving to United Church Mission

Because of its indispensable and comprehensive support of the entire ministry of the church across all settings – local congregations, Associations, Conference, and National – churches are asked to give 50% of their total mission giving – ideally, at least 5% of total income – to United Church Mission (formerly Fellowship Dues plus OCWM Basic Support). This giving recommendation also applies to those churches still using the Fellowship Dues/OCWM Basic Support system of wider church giving.

Giving to Designated Support

Help us transform lives through these designated giving opportunities:

- Sustaining Pastoral Excellence Endowment
- Hispanic Ministries

15% of total mission spending is considered a good goal for designated giving.

Giving to Local Needs

Churches are asked to consider using 35% of their mission spending to meet local needs, such as feeding programs, homelessness shelters, and other local ministries of compassion.

*For years, Conference mission giving recommendations have been based on giving as a percentage of local church expenditures. As our Conference makes a transition to United Church Mission, these giving recommendations are re-framed as a percentage of income, since this has a biblical grounding and is more consistent with our denomination’s message that urges proportional giving by individuals to the local church.
